Early Response Team: Basic, Recertification, and Train-the-Trainer

Who Benefits: Volunteers who work with Early Response Teams (ERTs) are often the first people on the ground providing aid after a disaster strikes. Their mission is to create a caring presence. They immediately help to clean things up and make homes safe, sanitary and secure.

ERT volunteers must go through ERT training with UMCOR. This ensures that they will operate under specific guidelines that allow them to be productive and caring while causing no further harm or being a burden to the affected community. Topics covered in the class include the who, what, when, where and how of doing ministry, as well as hands on experience in the specific tasks that early responders are expected to accomplish.

After completing this training, scoring 70% or above on the ERT quiz, and passing a background check, volunteers will be eligible to receive an UMCOR ERT badge. Instituted May 1, 2009, this badge is part of a national effort to certify early response volunteers across multiple agencies. This was born out of "lessons learned" from 9/11 and the need for volunteers to hold specific credentials to enter the disaster site. UMCOR ERT badge holders will be eligible to receive national certification to assist following a US disaster. If you became an ERT before 2009, you can earn a badge by taking a re-certification class.

If you already have served on an ERT team and you are interested in becoming an authorized ERT trainer, UMCOR will provide a minimum of sixteen hours additional training upon request. If you then pass a background check, get a recommendation from your conference, and perform well in a class-setting evaluation, you can be authorized to teach ERT classes within your conference.

They can have 2 or 3 more people come. This is where it will be:

A Covenant Prayer in the Wesleyan Tradition (UMH #607)

I am no longer my own, but thine.
Put me to what thou wilt, rank me with whom thou wilt.
Put me to doing, put me to suffering.
Let me be employed by thee or laid aside for thee,
Exalted for thee or brought low for thee.
Let me be full, let me be empty.
Let me have all things, let me have nothing.
I freely and heartily yield all things to thy pleasure and disposal.
And now, O Glorious and blessed God,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,
Thou art mine, and I am thine. So be it.
And the covenant which I have made on earth,
Let it be ratified in heaven.
Amen.
